I'm Natasha Giles, a fine artist focusing on meditative artwork.

» spirit painting »

Artworks that speak of pattern, connection, humanity, soul.

I use ink and liquid watercolour for instantaneous fluidity and vivid colour, which I strive to match with bold, intuitive and expressive mark-making through trance state.

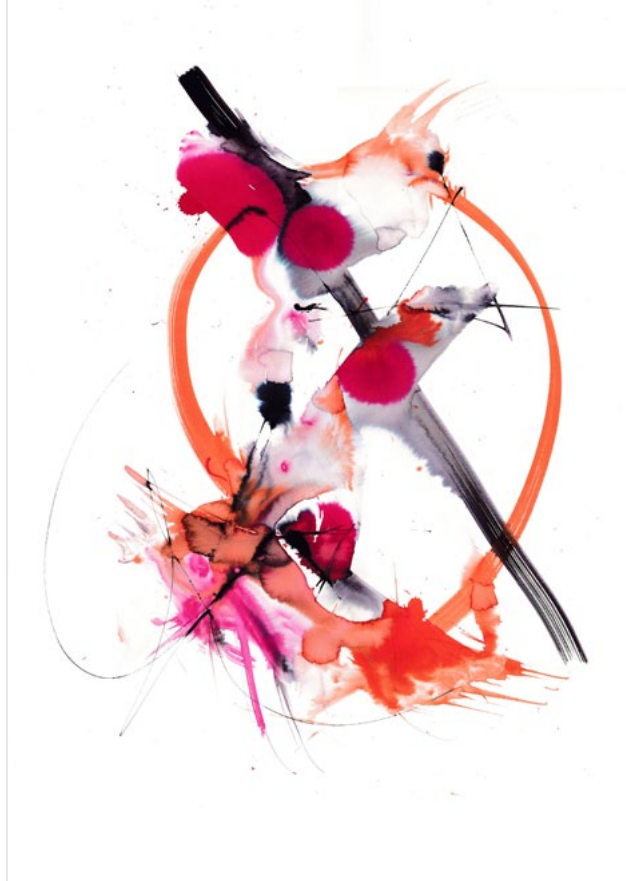

This is accessed by listening to nature soundscapes and rhythms.

My artworks reflect my mood, emotion and subconscious response to external influences and themes of interest. My focus is on pure freedom of expression, encouraging joy, healing and empowerment through artistic creation.

My vision is to encourage everyone to delve into this innate human instinct, and to feel better, and more connected for it.

In short, Art heals.

I live and work near Birmingham in the UK.

I tend to produce a few works in a single session on various sizes and surfaces and always have a set of paintings in a similar range of colours, textures and theme; if you happen to be drawn to particular pieces, please enquire to see other pieces.

I take commissions and am happy to experiment. Please contact me to discuss.
